Re:

Jimenez, et al. v. KLB Foods, Inc., et al.

Case No. 12-cv-6796

The Clerk of Court is Directed to: Term motion (doc. #____)

Doc. and File As: Letty

Dear Judge Oetken:

We are counsel to Plaintiffs. We write to oppose Defendants' request to file a motion to dismiss, and to respectfully request leave to file a motion for sanctions against Defendants' counsel, for the reasons stated below.

Defendants' Motion to Dismiss the Complaint Due to Plaintiffs' Alleged Legal Status as Undocumented Workers

Defendants' request to file a motion to dismiss the complaint based on Plaintiffs' alleged legal status is contrary to both the law of the Second Circuit and the Department of Labor's wage and hour enforcement policies. Undocumented workers are entitled to recover unpaid wages under the FLSA, despite the Hoffman and Palma decisions (which related to back pay under the National Labor Relations Act).

The U.S. Department of Labor has addressed Defendants' exact argument in Fact Sheet #48: Application of U.S. Labor Laws to Immigrant Workers: Effect of Hoffman Plastics decision on laws enforced by the Wage and Hour Division (attached as Exhibit A), explaining: "The Department's Wage and Hour Division will continue to enforce the FLSA...without regard to whether an employee is documented or undocumented. Enforcement of these laws is distinguishable from ordering back pay under the NLRA...Under the FLSA...the Department (or an employee) seeks back pay for hours an employee has actually worked, under laws that require payment for such work." The Hoffman Plastics Court's "concern with awarding back pay for 'years of work not performed, for wages that could not lawfully have been earned' does not apply to work actually performed."

The courts, including the Second Circuit, have followed the Department of Labor's approach. See Liu v. Donna Karan International, Inc., 2002 WL 1300260 (S.D.N.Y. 2002); Flores, et al. v. Anjost Corp., et al. No. 11 Civ. 1531 (S.D.N.Y. Aug 2, 2013) (the parties must submit a revised notice stating "...you have the right to participate in this action even if you are an undocumented immigrant or if you were paid in cash."), citing Kemper v. Westbury Operating Corp., No. 12 Civ. 895, 2012 WL 4976122, at *6 (E.D.N.Y. Oct. 17, 2012); See also Lamonica v. Safe Hurricane Shutters, Inc., 711 F.3d 1299 (11th Cir. 2013) (undocumented aliens may recover their unpaid wages under the FLSA); Flores v. Albertson's, Inc., 2002 WL 1163623 (C.D. Cal. 2002). In Madeira v. Affordable Hous. Found., Inc., 469 F.3d 219 (2d. Cir. 2006) the Second Circuit explained:

[A]n order requiring an employer to pay his undocumented workers the minimum wages prescribed by the [FLSA] for labor actually and already performed...does not....condone that violation or continue it. It merely ensures that the employer does not take advantage of the violation by availing himself of the benefit of undocumented workers' past labor without paying for it in accordance with minimum FLSA standards. Id.

The Secretary of Labor recently stated in Appellee's Amicus Brief in Lucas, et al v. Jerusalem Café, LLC, et al., No. 12-2170 (8th Cir. July 29, 2013), "the only circuit court to address the question directly, see Patel v. Quality Inn S., 846 F.2d 700 (11th Cir. 1988); numerous district courts...and the Secretary of Labor all agree: employers who unlawfully hire unauthorized aliens must otherwise comply with federal employment laws." Id at 7.

Thus, Defendants' request to file a motion to dismiss must be denied.

Defendants' Motion to Dismiss the Complaint as Against Kunwar Bist

While Defendants seek leave to file a "motion to dismiss" against individual defendant Kunwar Bist, what they are actually seeking is a motion for summary judgment, as the issue of whether a defendant is an employer under the Fair Labor Standards Act ("FLSA") is a factual issue. Under the 'economic reality' test, the relevant factors include whether the alleged employer (1) had the power to hire and fire employees, (2) supervised and controlled employee work schedules or conditions of employment, (3) determined the rate and method of payment and (4) maintained employment records. No one factor is dispositive but the economic reality test encompasses the totality of the circumstances.

Defendants' counsel's blanket denial of Mr. Bist's employer status is not enough to award summary judgment (or dismissal). In fact, Defendant Bist testified in his deposition to the following:

- 1. He had the power to hire employees (Bist Dep. Tr. 1 at 14-15);
- 2. He had the power to fire employees (Bist Dep. Tr at 14, 16-17);
- 3. He personally pays the employees (Bist Dep. Tr. at 22);
- 4. He maintains employment records, work schedules (Bist Dep. Tr. at 27:18-23), payment slips and attendance register (Bist Dep. Tr. 34-35);

Referenced pages of the Deposition Transcript of Kunwar Bist are attached hereto as Exhibit B.

P.003/013

As the owner, he is in charge of wage and hour compliance (Bist Dep. Tr. 5. at 32-33).

Further, Ranu Rawat testified in his Deposition that he and Mr. Bist had the power to hire and fire employees, determine salaries, set employee's work schedules and maintain the employee records (Rawat Dep. Tr.<sup>2</sup> at 8:18-10:4).

For the reasons stated above, Defendants' request must be denied.

Plaintiffs' Motion for Sanctions

12:16

2013/08/06

Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(b) provides in relevant part:

By presenting to the court ... a pleading, written motion, or other paper, an attorney or unrepresented party is certifying that to the best of the person's knowledge, information, and belief, formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances ... the claims, defenses, and other legal contentions therein are warranted by existing law ... [and that] the allegations and other factual contentions have evidentiary support or, if specifically so identified, are likely to have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation or discovery. Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(b), If, after notice and a reasonable opportunity to respond, the court determines that the standards set forth in section (b) have been violated, the court may impose sanctions upon the attorneys, law firms, or parties. See Fed. R. Civ. P 11(c), FN 26.

A pleading, motion or other paper violates Rule 11 either when it " 'has been interposed for any improper purpose, or where, after reasonable inquiry, a competent attorney could not form a reasonable belief that the pleading is well-grounded in fact and warranted by existing law....' " W.K. Webster & Co. v. American President Lines, Ltd., 32 F.3d 665, 670 (2d Cir. 1994) (quoting Eastway, 762 F.2d at 254).

In the instant action, Plaintiff requests that the Court impose sanctions on Defendants' counsel as he failed to conduct reasonable inquiry into the law before filing his pre-motion request. Had he done so, he would have determined that such request would be denied. Further, after receipt of Defendants' pre-motion conference letter, we wrote to Defendants' counsel, provided him with the relevant law and the opportunity to withdraw his request, and advised that if his request was not withdrawn, we intended to seek sanctions (see Exhibit D). Defendants refused to withdraw their request. As such, we respectfully request a pre-motion conference and for leave to file a motion for sanctions.

Respectfully,

/s/ C.K. Lee, Esq.

U.S. Department of Labor Wage and Hour Division (Revised July 2008)

Fact Sheet #48: Application of U.S. Labor Laws to Immigrant Workers: Effect of Hoffman Plastics decision on laws enforced by the Wage and Hour Division

On March 27, 2002, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in Hoffman Plastic Compounds, Inc. v. NLRB, No. 00-1595 (S. Ct.), that the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) lacked authority to order back pay to an undocumented worker who was laid off from his job because of union activities.

In Hoffman Plastics, the Supreme Court decided that providing back pay to the undocumented worker would conflict with policies under U.S. immigration laws. Those laws require employees to present documents establishing their identity and authorization to work at the time they are hired. An employer must check those documents and cannot knowingly hire someone who is not authorized to work. In Hoffman Plastics, the employee presented false documentation when he was hired. He was later laid off for trying to organize a union, in violation of the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA). The NLRB sought back pay for a period of time after the layoff. The Supreme Court concluded that back pay should not be awarded "for years of work not performed, for wages that could not lawfully have been earned, and for a job obtained in the first instance by a criminal fraud."

The Supreme Court's decision does not mean that undocumented workers do not have rights under other U.S. labor laws. In Hoffman Plastics, the Supreme Court interpreted only one law, the NLRA. The Department of Labor does not enforce that law. The Supreme Court did not address laws the Department of Labor enforces, such as the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and the Migrant and Seasonal Agricultural Worker Protection Act (MSPA), that provide core labor protections for vulnerable workers. The FLSA requires employers to pay covered employees a minimum wage and, in general, time and a half an employee's regular rate of pay for overtime hours. The MSPA requires employers and farm labor contractors to pay the wages owed to migrant or seasonal agricultural workers when the payments are due.

The Department's Wage and Hour Division will continue to enforce the FLSA and MSPA without regard to whether an employee is documented or undocumented. Enforcement of these laws is distinguishable from ordering back pay under the NLRA. In Hoffman Plastics, the NLRB sought back pay for time an employee would have worked if he had not been illegally discharged, under a law that permitted but did not require back pay as a remedy. Under the FLSA or MSPA, the Department (or an employee) seeks back pay for hours an employee has actually worked, under laws that require payment for such work. The Supreme Court's concern with awarding back pay "for years of work not performed, for wages that could not lawfully have been earned," does not apply to work actually performed. Two federal courts already have adopted this approach. See Flores v. Albertson's, Inc., 2002 WL 1163623 (C.D. Cal. 2002); Liu v. Donna Karan International, Inc., 2002 WL 1300260 (S.D.N.Y. 2002).

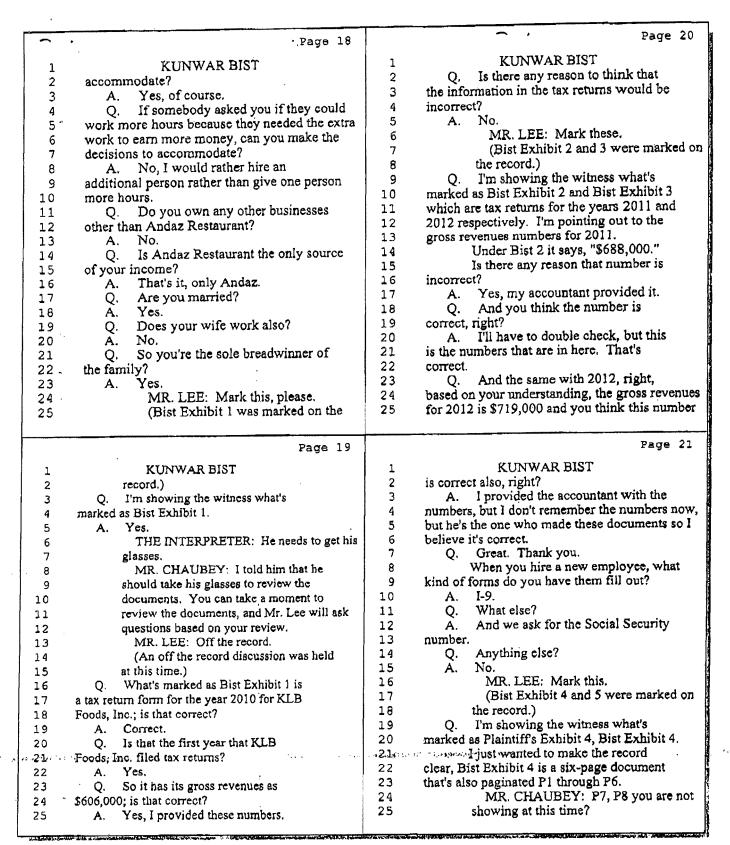

The Department of Labor is still considering the effect of Hoffman Plastics on other labor laws it enforces, including those laws prohibiting retaliation for engaging in protected conduct.

Santay:

We write to provide you with the opportunity to withdraw your pre-motion letter dated August 1, 2013.

Your argument that the FLSA does not apply to undocumented aliens is nonsensical and is contrary to the law. See Lucas v. Jerusalem Café, LLC, No. 12-2170, attached. Further, as an attorney you should be fully aware that both the Second Circuit and the Department of Labor have repeatedly held that Hoffman is completely inapplicable to the FLSA and the enforcement of wage and hour laws.

Your argument that individual Defendant Bist is not the Plaintiffs' employer is clearly contradicted by the deposition testimony.

Please be advised that If you do not withdraw your frivolous pre-motion letter by Monday August 5, 2013 at 10:00 A.M., we will prepare our response which will seek reimbursement for our legal fees, against your firm personally.
